2027: the Ding Wei year

Sources: Temple record of the sixty Tai Sui generals · San Ming Tong Hui · The hidden-stem table this report uses 2027 is the Ding Wei year: a yin Fire stem (丁) over the Goat branch (未). It begins at the instant of Li Chun on 4 February 2027, 09:46 China Standard Time - not at Chinese New Year, which is a lunisolar date that wanders weeks either side of the true solar boundary. Every statement in this forecast is anchored to that instant, and the same engine that casts your chart computes it.

Inside the Goat hides a small government of its own: Ji earth (己) as primary qi, with Ding fire (丁) and Yi wood (乙) beneath. The year is therefore not only fire-over-earth; it carries buried fire and wood of its own, which matter when your chart contains the branches that engage them.

On the presiding general of the year: the temple record of the sixty generals lists Miao Bing for Ding Wei 2027. Wen Zhe, who appears on some lists for 2027, governs 2026 - a small thing, but exactly the kind of thing worth checking before trusting anyone's forecast, including this one.

Your day master meets Ding, Yin Fire

Sources: The Ten Gods vocabulary

Read against your day master (Yang Metal, Geng 庚), the year stem Ding is your DIRECT OFFICER: authority in its proper form - duty, structure, office and reputation, constraint that comes with legitimacy.

The Goat's primary qi, Ji earth, reads as your DIRECT RESOURCE: support through proper channels - education, protection, tradition, and care that arrives from above or behind you. A Ding Wei year therefore speaks in two voices for you - fire on the surface, earth underneath - and which voice dominates in practice is the kind of thing schools genuinely disagree about.

In register terms, Ding's DIRECT OFFICER falls under Officer, where your own chart already counts 0 - a register your chart has none of. The Goat's DIRECT RESOURCE falls under Resource, where your chart counts 3 - your heaviest register. The registers are the five families the ten gods collapse into - Resource, Output, Wealth, Officer and Peer, set out in full in the natal report.

Tai Sui 2027 and your birth sign

Sources: Encyclopedic record on Tai Sui observance · Temple record of the sixty Tai Sui generals · Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he)

Your birth sign is the Ox, and five of the twelve signs stand in one of the named relations to the Goat, the Goat itself included (Rat, Ox, Horse, Goat and Dog). Folk practice surrounds each year with observance toward Tai Sui, the year's presiding general. The encyclopedic record states the belief plainly: people whose birth sign stands in particular relation to the ruling year are traditionally marked out for a rockier twelve months. Temple practice centres on the clashing signs - "about four of the twelve" in the folk summary. The count above is run against the relation tables this report uses everywhere else; daypillar.com/tai-sui-2027 walks through each.

Your birth-year branch is Chou (丑, the Ox), which stands in direct opposition to the Goat. This is the head of every temple's list for a Ding Wei year - the case the observance tradition exists primarily for.

The Goat branch meets your chart

Sources: Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he)

The year branch Wei (未, the Goat) forms named relationships with one branch in your chart:

未-丑 against your year branch is an oppositional pair. Clashes classically mark movement and sudden change between the affairs of the two palaces.

Traditional annual readings put the most weight on interactions touching the day branch. Where a clash lands there, the old texts speak of movement in close quarters; where a combination lands, of binding and busy-ness.

Four palaces meet the year

Sources: Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he) · The Ten Gods vocabulary

The year branch, Wei (未), was tested against your branches as a whole in the previous section. This chapter regroups the same mechanical facts by palace instead. A classical annual reading is usually framed as which of your palaces the year touches; what each relation kind means is covered above, not repeated here.

In your year pillar - your origins and the wider society - the branch is Chou (丑, the Ox), which forms an oppositional pair with Wei.

In your month pillar - your parents and career climate - the branch is You (酉, the Rooster), which stands apart from Wei: no combine, clash, harm or punishment.

In your day pillar - yourself - the branch is Chen (辰, the Dragon), which stands apart from Wei: no combine, clash, harm or punishment. The day palace also carries the year stem's ten-god reading. Ding measured against your own day master reads as your DIRECT OFFICER, the same role named earlier in this forecast, so the year meets your self-palace at both branch and stem at once. (Ding's combinations and oppositions with each of your stems are tested separately, in 'The year stem against your stems' below.)

In your hour pillar - your children and later years - the branch is Wei itself, the incoming year's own branch: the same ground, noted here though it is not one of the four named relations counted above.

Trios the Goat completes - or does not

Sources: Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he)

With Wei added, your branches come one member short of one three-branch set, and complete none. This chapter adds the incoming year branch to your own branches as one further member and asks whether 2027 completes a set for you, or only brings one within reach. Two further relationships work on three branches at once, rather than on the branch-pairs tested above: the three-harmony trios and the directional trios. Each is said to combine into one element outright once all three members are present, and the natal report sets out both in full.

Two of three: You (酉, the Rooster) in the month pillar and Chou (丑, the Ox) in the year pillar sit toward a three-harmony trio said to combine into metal. The third member is Si (巳, the Snake), which is not present even with the Goat added, so the set does not complete in 2027 either.

The decade 2027 falls in

Sources: Four Pillars of Destiny: luck cycles · The Ten Gods vocabulary · Published stem-relation tables (five combinations, four oppositions) · Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he) 2027 falls in your 辛巳 decade, ages 41-50 (2025-2034) - year 3 of it. A year is traditionally read inside the ten-year luck pillar that contains it, not on its own. The decade sets the ground; the year moves across that ground for one twelfth of its span.

The decade stem, 辛, reads as your ROB WEALTH: your own element in its other polarity - rival energy, boldness, shared ventures, generosity and rivalry over the same resources, depending on how the rest of the chart handles it. Against your own day stem, 庚, it forms neither a combination nor an opposition - no stem-level relation ties this decade's climate to the self one way or the other.

The decade branch, 巳, against the 2027 year branch Wei (未), forms no named relation. Against your own day branch, 辰, it forms no named relation either.

The year stem against your stems

Sources: Published stem-relation tables (five combinations, four oppositions)

The year stem can also be tested against each of your own four stems directly, one pillar at a time. These are the same five-combination and four-opposition tables the natal chapter on stem combinations and oppositions applies to your day master, run here from the year's side instead.

Ding stands in direct opposition to Gui (癸), your hour stem - friction traditionally read as touching your children and later years.

What 2027 adds to your elements

Your chart's wider element count runs wood 4, fire 1, earth 3, metal 3 and water 3 over 14 units. That is the count using every hidden stem rather than each branch's primary qi alone. The year adds to it: 2027 contributes four units - Ding's own stem, plus the three stems hidden inside Wei named at the top of this forecast.

Merged over 18 units (your 14 natal units plus the year's four): wood 5, fire 3, earth 4, metal 3 and water 3.

Your own day master's element, metal, receives nothing directly from the year's stem or the Goat's hidden stems - 2027 adds weight elsewhere, not to the day master's own element.

Of the elements the year touches, it adds most to fire (2 of its four units).

Your day master's footing in 2027

Sources: The twelve life stages (Chang Sheng cycle)

Your day master Geng (庚) sits at its Guan Dai stage on the Goat branch, the year's own. That is a third lens on 2027, distinct from the ten-god and branch-relation readings above: the twelve-stage cycle. It is a fixed sequence of twelve stages, from birth through prime to decline, which every day master runs through across the twelve branches; the natal report covers it in full. It has an opinion about 2027 specifically, because the Goat is itself a branch your day master can be measured against like any other.

Your day master, Geng (庚), sits at its Guan Dai stage on the Goat branch - coming of age: gathering strength and reaching for independence, not yet fully tested.

Month by month through Ding Wei

Sources: Published branch-trio and six-combine tables (san he, san hui, liu he) · The twelve life stages (Chang Sheng cycle) · The five seasonal states (Wuxing Dayi) · The Ten Gods vocabulary

The table below reads each of the twelve Ding Wei months against your day master 庚. They are solar months, not lunar ones: each opens at a solar term, from Li Chun on 4 February 2027 to the Xiao Han that closes the year. The engine computes every boundary to the second under audited conventions. Month stems follow the year stem by the classical sequence; the build gate asserts our rendering of it against the hand-derived order before this document ships.

Opens	Month	Stem god	Stage	State	Touches
Li Chun, 4 February 2027	壬寅 (Tiger)	EATING GOD	Jue	Qiu	-
Jing Zhe, 6 March 2027	癸卯 (Rabbit)	HURTING OFFICER	Tai	Qiu	clash vs month and harm vs day
Qing Ming, 5 April 2027	甲辰 (Dragon)	INDIRECT WEALTH	Yang	Xiang	combine vs month and punishment vs day
Li Xia, 6 May 2027	乙巳 (Snake)	DIRECT WEALTH	Chang Sheng	Si	-
Mang Zhong, 6 June 2027	丙午 (Horse)	SEVEN KILLINGS	Mu Yu	Si	harm vs year and combine vs hour
Xiao Shu, 7 July 2027	丁未 (Goat)	DIRECT OFFICER	Guan Dai	Xiang	clash vs year
Li Qiu, 8 August 2027	戊申 (- Monkey)	INDIRECT RESOURCE	Lin Guan	Wang	-
Bai Lu, 8 September 2027	己酉 (Rooster)	DIRECT RESOURCE	Di Wang	Wang	punishment vs month and combine vs day
Han Lu, 8 October 2027	庚戌 (Dog)	FRIEND	Shuai	Xiang	punishment vs year, harm vs month, clash vs day and punishment vs hour

Li Dong, 7 November 2027	辛亥 (Pig)	ROB WEALTH	Bing	Xiu	-
Da Xue, 7 December 2027	壬子 (Rat)	EATING GOD	Si	Xiu	combine vs year and harm vs hour
Xiao Han, 6 January 2028	癸丑 (Ox)	HURTING OFFICER	Mu	Xiang	clash vs hour

Key to the ten-god column: EATING GOD (appetite and creativity - output in its comfortable register); HURTING OFFICER (brilliance with an edge - output in its sharp register); INDIRECT WEALTH (wealth as opportunity - windfalls and enterprise, not salary); DIRECT WEALTH (wealth as steady income - diligence, salary, routine gains); SEVEN KILLINGS (authority in its raw form - pressure, drive, challenge); DIRECT OFFICER (authority in its proper form - duty, structure, legitimacy); INDIRECT RESOURCE (support through unconventional learning, intuition, outside mentors); DIRECT RESOURCE (support through proper channels - education, protection, tradition); FRIEND (peers, self-reliance, and competition among equals); ROB WEALTH (rival energy, boldness, rivalry over shared resources).

Key to the Stage and State columns. Stage is where your day master stands in the classical twelve-stage cycle on that month's branch, from Chang Sheng (birth) through Di Wang (the height of the cycle) to Jue (extinction); the natal report covers the full cycle. State is the seasonal standing of your day master's element in that month: Wang (ruling), Xiang (assisting the ruler), Xiu (resting), Qiu (held in check) or Si (overridden).

Month readings are the year's texture, not twelve events. Where a month branch crosses your day branch, the natal report explains why that crossing receives the closest reading.

Using a yearly reading honestly

Use a yearly reading the way the tradition intends: as one lens laid over your natal chart for one solar year. The same rules apply as in the natal report: nothing here is a decree. The audit trail - conventions page, test corpus, errata log - covers this forecast exactly as it covers the natal document.
